Q: Is there a way to listen to scroll events on the document when it scrolls through an iframe? So I am wondering if there is any way to listen to scroll events on the document when it scrolls through an iframe. I want to be able to keep track of the coordinates of an element when the document scroll events happen. I have tried using onScroll to no avail and I am wondering if there is something else I can try out. I am developing in react but want this for a project in Angular. A: So I found this sollution. You can use onScroll using window. Q: Working with "deleted" data in ArcMap? I'm new to ArcMap. Using ArcMap 10.3. I have a list of 10,000 POIs along the Interstate 90 corridor in Washington state, USA. I took a first pass through the data and created a join between FIDS (a fire information/tracking system) and each POI. When I view the join attribute table, the fire ID's were deleted, as expected. What I can't figure out how to do is use the ID's in the table to print out the fire ID and the fire dates. I'm doing this in a very limited fashion, so I have 6 different fields where I need to print the fire ID and the fire date. The join attributes c9d1549cdd

The Shepherd is a game with an immersive story. Characters in the story are based on real people and their stories. It is in an ancient land where civilization was divided into tribes ruled by powerful magic. In a valley in the south, the elders of the tribe had disappeared leaving it to be ruled by the evil Oden. The tribe who live in the hills in the north have been forgotten by the rest of the world. In that area, there are 6 mystic wells which power the ancient magic of the land. You have been chosen to be one of the shepherds who are to protect and nurture the sheep, who are the survivors of the tribe in the north. Your mission is to find the rest of the tribe, help them, and assist them in a new civilization built on the ruins of the old. How to Play Time Attack Pick up and throw a rock to stun animals or objects and reduce the bar. Time Attack continues for as long as you last. Single Player Starting with a small batch of sheep and the ability to defeat up to three animals at a time, upgrade your weapons and become stronger as the game progresses. Two Versus Multiplayer Vs battles are fought in multiplayer, but it also functions as a single player with a limited arsenal. Multiplayer Multiplayer matches have four players, and there is a leaderboard of all matches made. If you want to try out your skills against real players, go to the online Leaderboard to join the battle. Leaderboards Leaderboard to view the current and historical rank for each user and the progress of each game. Friend Leads Call your friend and propose your match with Leads. Show Match Friend Leads will show you the fight with the other friend. Resume a Match Resume your match that has not finished. Join Match Join match for Friend Leads. Friend Help In multiplayer a Friend Lead will help your friend to get a strong battle. About the Game A unique time-based battle system. Each battle is a fight between an enemy and you. The battle bar is reduced in time to reduce your vulnerability. An important part of this game is the minimization of risk vs reward. You can use the time within the battle bar to attack once, but you will only hit one enemy, and it will hit you. You do not recover the time spent attacking. Instead you can extend
