HPAs may contain diagnostic tools, an operating system for recovery purposes, etc. Suspects rarely use HPAs to hide data. When such data is found, they simply delete it. If you don't find any hidden partitions, or if they are in the "inaccessible" state, do not use this recovery tool. With this utility, you can recover deleted and system files, however, you will not have access to hidden data. If you want to fix the problem, you will need to use other tools. The utility is available for download on our website as a portable version.
