What's new:

Battle System

Fatal Furies has a new battle system based on TOP-DOWN perspective.

In the previous version, battles were fought in 2D, causing the enemies to be off-screen and making it hard to judge the power of attacks. Fatal Furies now gives players a 3D combat experience that facilitates a clear understanding of the battle field and makes the attack power easy to understand and evaluate.

Usage

- Free-style battle utilizes a 3D environment and 3D characters to create an immersive and thrilling battle.
- Character stats and equipment are determined automatically in accordance with the avatar movements in the battle.
- Easy to understand and evaluate battle power.

Gameplay

- All races can level up to level 20.
- The player may allocate the character levels of each race depending on his action time preference.
- Limited time to allocate the character

levels. (Depending on each race, each character have a maximum three or four maximum level levels)
- The Upper limit of the number of races depends on the maximum level.
- There are 100 professions, and you can freely assign items to your characters, allowing you to develop your own combat strategy.
- There are 100 classes, and you can freely change the classes equipped to the character as desired.
- The final move can be freely selected from various moves to develop a very unique party.
- The characters must be separated from each other when entering a battle, allowing the player to understand which character will start a move.

Sound

- Open world battle sounds added.
- Battle sounds are added for the first time in the Tarnished series.

Character

- Dark Caste new system with a few different variants.
- Enormous amount of character customization added.
- Improved game face system that makes your character look young or adult as desired.
