Next: · VICIDial Basics - Part 1 - Installing · Worried about fear? Just change your channel! & midpoint; Setup entries. ini, as already noted, is not recommended to be used to configure VICIDial. Instead, we recommend that you create one, but the most important file, which should be placed in your project's source folder and named config.ini. This is a Configuration File, which contains all the main settings of the program and in which you can set the values of the options. The default configuration files have an .ini extension and are located at: \\My Programs\\VICIDial\\Configuration\\.
