• Blood will be Spilled is a point-and-click puzzle platformer with a high volume of traps and hazards. What makes this game different from others are its challenging but fair puzzles, tons of dialogue- and story driven content and rich anthropomorphic style of the game. • Do you like: Pac-man, adventure or puzzles in general? And do you want to be able to interact with a game's characters and environment? Then you're in for a treat. Blood will be Spilled can be classified as a walkabout platformer in the spirit of Pac-man and Ristar. • When playing Blood will be Spilled, you will discover three main characters with their unique play style: The Commander: A deep thinker who for the most part stubbornly stands his ground. The Engineer: A true rock-smasher, who sees everything and everything is no obstacle. The Fighter: An overwhelming brute, who at times is prone to mindless violence. • The scenery contains lots of different items and rooms that you need to find the way to where you want to go. Some of them are highly dangerous and should be approached with caution. • Blood will be Spilled contains two different endings and a replay-mode. Make sure you take your time as you discover the hidden story of the game. • Blood will be Spilled is packed with lots of easter eggs and secrets to discover! • The best parts of the game are the funny dialogues and the story. The story will allow you to connect to the characters and find out how they became the way they are. While you're playing the game, you also will encounter unique characters who share their thoughts and experiences with you, and can be explored and saved for later if you like. Blood will be Spilled - The Artbook: • It's time to uncover the secrets of Blood will be Spilled.
