I stumbled across this site and am in shock that it's actually real. I've been newly diagnosed with T2 diabetes. I'm currently on a 2.5 gram Rebag muscle mass gainer supplement to help with strength and muscle mass. I'm also on a diabetic diet. I have been only eating twice a day and aim to eat close to maintenance weight (100 to 110 pounds). I'm also taking a 1 gram vitamin B12 shot every week and a 4 gram iron supplement once a week. My blood sugar gets erratic in the morning. Is it common to be erratic? Or is it telling me I'm not working it hard enough? Thanks for taking the time to read my inquiry.
