is a MUD-like virtual world for Specimen. Follow this process to get started! The Habitat - Have you ever looked into a microscope? Imagine that the inside of your eye is a floating sort of emptiness. It may not seem like much, but it's really pretty cool when you look at it closely. But when you peer inside that microscopic world, you realize you're standing in a void without walls. Where do you go? What do you do? That's the setting of the Habitat. Pick Your Specimen - You're a sentient being made of paper and floating souls. You're made out of paper and souls. No, the souls you refer to are only souls. They're not your actual body. Rather they're the stuff that gives your body substance. The paper is just there to make you look like a paper-thin human. Pick Your Items - The facility is a place of business for each Specimen. Specimen can use a wide array of items to conduct business. You can go to work and purchase things for others, but that's not what you're here for! Meet The Others - The other Specimen here are varied and unique. They're living in their own paper-ships afloat inside the mill. You'll find everyone a bit different. Some are as spontaneous as you are, and others are reserved and often don't speak. Learn to appreciate all the others, even if you don't understand them. Build A Relationship - You're a Specimen, and there's a lot to figure out about this facility. But there's more to it than that. You have to build relationships, because if you don't, there's a good chance that they won't be around in the end. Habitat Infrastructure - Once you've found your niche, it's time to build a relationship. Your paper-ship is called a Habitat. Create an economy that supplies all the things necessary for life. And when you're finished, create a relationship with your next Specimen. Pair Up - Even though it's a world of paper-ship inhabitants, there is a person who is in charge. That person is you. You and your partner live in the same Habitat. What will you do? I'm not going to tell you; it's your decision. According to the scientific opinion by the European Food Safety Authority: "Leading international organizations have reported that adverse health effects may be associated with exposure to lead from diet. .5: The Rebirth of the DeplorableSavage Read by Dan Marsh (@DanMarsh) Your characters have just met for the first time as members of the Beast Squad. After awhile, they find that their moments of magical merriment have taken a turn for the worse as a mysterious force makes its way towards them. What's worse, they're being attacked by a force of evil zombies... Wand World - Spell Cards, Unity, and Testing Showdowns When Dan finally returned to Ireland after one month away from his new home and coworkers, his first stop was to meet Patrick, the new owner of the hub for Wand World, a recently opened gaming store in the industrial area of Ireland known as Waterford. Patrick had sent the Beast Squad up to discuss everything about their new adventure home with them, but more importantly, he wanted to talk about his new purchase. He had just bought Wand World... "That's good, Patrick. You'll have to tell us how it happened. It's never been this hard in the beginning." Someone had created an entire magical universe right in front of him! "Yes, I was afraid of that! It was so hard to buy this place. I have been struggling a great deal as well. But I know that this world is going to change a lot for the better, for the better!" "Of course, my friends. You cannot fail!" Daniel, Gaia, Arthur, and Patrick had lived harmoniously together in this magical new world, but their special world would no longer allow it to happen. Gaia was forced to leave the humans of Joy Town to return to her people, and she returned to the mystical and dangerous world of Drow; simply returning to them wouldn't be enough of a trip. Arthur wasn't willing to return to the mystical and deadly lands of the Pandorean Rangers, so he created a new world for his friends of the Beast Squad to live, one he hoped would be pleasant and peaceful. However, to get to this point, Arthur had to destroy a lot of the world that he had worked so hard to build. "We know, we know." Patrick laughed as he felt he had somehow told his story several times that morning. "You know I can't tell it too much, but here, we will get a tour of the dungeon to
