Prominent figures of the Indian state and political history in the form of panels, with their able biographical statements attached, are arranged chronologically, so that the era in which they lived can be deduced from their placement. These biographies include the 'Pan India' subjects, as well as topics of regional relevance. The period covered is from the 6th century to the 21st century, the first two centuries of which are included in the 'grant' volume, and the last century in the 'remit'.

English by Shoib Hasan to the Texts. Bhopal: The Life and Times of Madan Mohan Malaviya The Book is divided into three sections; 'Grant' describes the history of India from the earliest known times to the pre independence period, up to 1885 AD. 'Remit' is focused on the period after 1885, and includes the history of the main castes (varna) of the country. The 'Pan India' chapter covers the period from the foundation of the Indian National Congress and the Independence of India, up to 1991. Presentation Pack This book is a collection of essays that the author planned as lectures for an academic course. The main focus of these essays is the history and heritage of the Indian subcontinent, especially in the greater Bombay area, which is its hometown. The book also has chapters on religions and politics of the subcontinent, which include the history of the British colonial era and the British Empire. The book also gives a detailed presentation of the roles played by Gandhi in social reform movements of the past as well as major political developments that had a significant impact on the life of Indians in India during the subcontinent's long and hard time. The author's firm belief that India has not only an economic but also a social history makes this book a great read. It can be read as an introduction to the problems faced by present and future generations on the subcontinent, and will serve as a very powerful tool for understanding the history of the region. Book Order: (1) Introduction. (2) Preface. (3) Note on the Text. (4) Extract of a
