This is a brand new puzzle game, in which all the mechanics of the past are "mounted" on a fantastic reality that takes over. The old "stop watch" is still there, the car controls are still the same, but in addition to this, there is now an endless number of power-ups. The game is designed with the player in mind. There is no fear of being confused, because the very next puzzle is slightly different from the previous one. The gameplay is relatively easy, but the difficulty grows exponentially as the game goes on. The game offers a small variety in terms of the settings (place of the level, route, number of power-ups, main way of passing through the level). About The Developers: Mystery Design is a company based in the United Kingdom. My partner and I have made games for years together, and the most popular one is called "Intruders". We have also made some casual games, such as "Mystery Dice", "Fever" and "Terrorists". We have also made a few games together with our friend James McNelly, which were published on his website. "Intruders" is our first game that we published ourselves. What's New in this Release: If you would like to help us with the development we are always looking for a few more testers. Features: - Available on mobile platforms - 10 power-ups - 15 main and 9 shorter levels - Achievements Time to Travel can be described as a simple arcade racing game. Use your car to drive across in the environment and trying not to crash. You'll have a lot of choices to choose the route depending on what you like. The game has both classic tracks and various other really awesome tracks. This game has two goals: try to finish the mission and try to get a lot of coins. These animals are more dangerous than even modern weapons, but you will find ways to overcome them in combat. You'll have to be smart about what animals you seek, as only certain animals give out treasures and points. Keep away from the vicious animals, while finding food and

Six highly skilled car racing robots have stopped time on the track and taken over the surface of their planet. They have different names and I call them StopTime robots. Now you have a chance to become a driver and drive the fastest car to this end. You start the game from the first level. When you drive, you move forward for a certain amount of time from the starting line, you jump from a high place, and many other actions. There is a mechanic that controls the car, if the light is red, you stop in the course. There are traps in the way; if you touch them, your car will break and you will have to walk back and start the whole track again. Do not hurry - better to decide which actions you want to play according to the route. Sometimes you need to slow down - you can slow down the movement of the car with the wheel. When you get near the finish line, you complete the stage. The rule is - as soon as you touch the finish line, the stage is over, and you score some points for this round. The rules are simple - you can choose three ways of passing - fast passage, collecting coins and collecting atoms. The speed of the car is decided by the number of coins you have. This number is what determines the speed of moving. To collect coins, you need to touch them on the way - in the game there is no need to stop and collect them. The speed of the car is a bit different, depending on the speed of the car. Collect atoms and you will be able to slow down! Each atom is worth 1/10 of the car's speed. When the light is green, it means that the car has enough power and you can play a different turn of passing. Look at the speed and your decision. When you decide to change the mode of passing, the most suitable way to pass will be displayed. The level is over, so you will be able to score as much as you want. Do not hurry and wait to see what the best way to pass is, it will be displayed on the screen. In total, there are over 16 levels. The first 7 levels will introduce you to the mechanics and the main features of the game, and the rest will test your skills. How to pass the levels? You can also use the various power-ups, which are present in the game. You need to collect the required number of atoms to buy power-up. It costs you to change the mode of d41b202975

Ion busters make the obstacles disappear. Rocket boosters make the obstacles disappear even more quickly. Roads with time brakes prevent drivers from moving around the finish line when they are held up. Magnetic mines prevent other cars from approaching. Solid Earth temporarily stops time for all the cars in the track. Best way of powering up: ===== Collect coins for speed boosters, Collect atoms for rubber bands, Collect magnetic spheres for roads with time brakes. Best way of passing: ===== Kick the solid earth at another car which is affected by the earth and the driver will be pushed out of the way Pass through the other cars in the same lane. If
