The `expand_constant()` function is supposedly part of the numpy module: `import numpy as np print(np.expand_dims(3)) # prints [3] print(np.expand_dims(np.expand_dims(3))) # prints [3,3,3]` The above works fine. However, when I try to use it on `array(np.expand_dims(3))`, I get the following error: `Traceback (most recent call last): File ".\scorecard.py", line 77, in total_score = np.expand_dims(score) File "D:\My Programs\Projects\...\lib\site-packages\umpy\core\fromnumeric.py", line 286, in expand_dims return expand(a, axis) File "D:\My Programs\Projects\...\lib\site-packages\umpy\core\fromnumeric.py", line 58, in expand return array(a, dtype, copy=False, order=order) File "D:\My Programs\Projects\...\lib\site-packages\umpy\core\fromnumeric.py", line 86, in array return array(x, dtype, copy=copy, order=order) RuntimeError: cannot import expandconstant, runtime error at 1 0 cannot import expandconstant fix, runtime error (at-1 0) cannot import expandconstant . I believe that it has to do with the way that the array is constructed, but I am not sure why. Here is the same error using one of the other ways to construct the array: import numpy as np score = np.array([[1,1,1],[1,2,1],[1,2,1]]) total_score = np.expand_dims(score) # Same error using array([1, 1, 1]) # Same error using array([[1, 1, 1]) # Same error using array([[1, 2, 1], [1, 2, 1]]) Here is the first few lines of the code that this error is generated from: # Another 82138339de`
