1) Bugs Fight Everyone loves a good brawl. Unfortunately we're not going to have a lot of them in this game. Bugspeed is a singleplayer only experience. You will only have 2-3 melee encounter at any given time, in a variety of locations. 2) Level Design We have a variety of procedurally generated levels that are both fun to navigate, and will challenge your abilities in many different ways. You can fly and jump a lot, and you can also conveniently spit lightning from your mouth and canister. 3) Map Design You will be fighting many enemies at once in many different locations, so we spent a lot of time in making sure that each level contains multiple routes to reach the final battle (or battle room). The level design is not only fun to navigate, but also easy to understand once you've been in the fight. In short, we tried to make it as easy as possible for you to kill the baddies and take their stuff, whether that is you smacking a pizza into the face of a robot (the bejeweled comrade), you smashing the glass ceiling of the pizza-conners in the face, or you electrifying some poor meat-sack badder (the fat friend) so that all his enemies get roasted. The level design also makes it easy for you to find your favorite route and avoid the enemies you hate. 4) Interaction If you crash a lot, that will be a big thing in your favor. We have a number of interactive objects that will give you a lot of benefits if you can smash and catch them. The objects range from useful to perilous. Some good things: Free crates that you can carry around with you. 5) Bonus Round Of course, we also have a number of bonuses for you. If you collect enough coins, you unlock new bug-themed costumes. If you destroy enough objects (such as the enemies, power-ups or machines), you unlock new more powerful versions of your character. 6) Unlockables There are two main unlockables in this game: You unlock new bug-themed costumes. You unlock more powerful versions of your character. You can unlock all the bug-themed costumes, though we will probably have the most serious bugs get it the easiest What is a bug speedcoilder? BugSpeed Collider is a side-scrolling beat-'em-up game

03-04-2012, 07:16 PM Empty Cube Runner 03-04-2012, 07:42 PM Right you bad boy Legend2727 03-04-2012, 08:02 PM empty the catbox. great game. Sneakiness 03-05-2012, 04:05 AM Great Game! I have a small question; I can shoot a ball through the bottom trench and it goes through the top trench, it then continues and goes through the top trench 3 more times. I'm new at this so I'm not sure if this is allowed or not, how did you make it for that? sith31337 03-05-2012, 11:59 AM Aww, it's so wonderfull. didierd 03-05-2012, 11:12 PM I love your game. It's very good fun, and I love that the pitch field is so big! The question was, 'how did you do that':) but I wanted to be able to do that too - and found that there isn't a "stabilizing" function for the bottom trench. However, my goal in starting my own 2D game was to put in as much fun and replayability as I could :) I also noticed that when shooting a ball through the bottom trench 3 times, it flies to the top and I have to start all over again :/ Thus I'm still some way off achieving the goal I had in mind for this goal. I'm just developing a simple 2D game, but I've already got a good part of it made and have an idea of how it'll play, so I thought I'd put it up online in case any of you wanted to see how it plays. For reference, the goal of the game is to use a cat (pant) to clear the trenches. For the catbox at the top of the trenches, I created a function that for each point on the pixel Y axis, reads the amount of points there are and adds the last 4 points on that axis so it's the same amount as if it were the trench ;) Anyways, here's my source code - I hope you find it amusing, and hopefully it gives you some ideas :) Note that there are quite a few (30+) tiles for each category of tile.

Welcome to the world of test and improvement. We created the AHTS Simulator to simulate realistic situations of the oil industry with this ship simulator game. Your objective is to pilot an AHTS vessel to a certain goal position and hold it steady for ten seconds. You should control the main engines throttle and turn the wheel. From the Oil rig, you can control the aft and bow thrusters. Use the buttons above the screen to change the weather conditions and switch to water gun mode. If the bridge catches fire, put it out before it spreads to the rest of the ship. The world of the industry may not be as nice as you thought it would be, so watch out for UFOs! Follow the path to complete the challenges, use the port and starboard thrusters to steer the ship with arrow keys. - Hover for idle sim/destinations - Turn the wheel for heading - Set the main engines to hot or cold - Speed adjustment via throttle - Right & Left side thrusters for fine steering - Arrow keys for navigation - Thruster buttons for turning the ship - Attitude indicator for automatic turn plane - Use the center button to toggle between wind and water screen - 10 second challenge countdown - 11 second challenge countdown - SOS for self-timer - Laddered ship design - RCTC (real coasting time control) - English option for simple navigation - Ships switch to neutral while idle, switch back on position for heading - Central Bridge: Type of Vessel can be changed via the game - Ship inventory: Hull, Water Tanks, Anchor, Tug supplies, etc. - Water gun: 3 guns (1 in each side of the ship) - Stop button: for when the vessel stops on its own - Ship physics simulator for hull/cabin & equipment - HUD: Navigation, fuel, weather, fuel/oxygen, water, etc. - Localized English - Optional animated 3D graphics (requires DX10+)  Bugfixes/issues  – check sailing all years in ship design – deactivate sounds when playing the game What's next?
